

BBC TELEVISION ARE LOOKING FOR TRADITIONAL JAMAICAN
FAMILIES FOR A DOCUMENTARY
ON FAMILY LIFE

Are you proud of your children and the way you have raised them?

We are looking for families with teenagers who would be interested in having 2 British teens come to live with them for 8 days. We want to show British kids what it's like growing up in a Jamaican family and how different family life can be in other cultures.

We believe it will be a rewarding opportunity to help two British teenagers on their path to adulthood. This will also be an opportunity to represent all that is strong and right about traditional Jamaican families to wider audiences.

If you have strong parenting and family values and would like to share them with British teenagers please get in touch!

Email me joncrisp@twentytwenty.tv or call 011 44 207 284 2020